

mentor questionnaire for the Phi Kappa Psi New York Alpha Mentoring Program

THE COMMITMENT:

Mentoring programs are an outstanding opportunity for students to develop their professional skills outside of the classroom and under the guidance of a professional in the community. Our program is also a great way for alumni to reconnect with the college, fraternity, and emerging professionals in their own fields, while at the same time providing alumni with the opportunity to return something to the fraternity in the process. Unfortunately, busy schedules and geographical barriers will not allow all interested alumni to participate to their fullest extent. Therefore, we have defined three types of interest and commitment levels to the mentoring program for you to consider.

Please check one:

Long distance email and phone communication – Mentors will be expected to maintain frequent conversation as they advise mentees through job searches and college life. Mentors should make an effort to visit the mentee at least once during the student's time as an active.

Local one-on-one mentoring – In addition to frequent email and phone communication, mentors will be expected to meet with their mentees once to twice a year. We suggest mentors try to visit Cornell one semester and invite their mentees for a job shadowing experience the following semester.

Local group mentoring – Alumni groups are formed to organize and hold mentoring conferences with a group of actives. As with one-on-one mentoring, we suggest the groups meet at Cornell one semester and organize job shadowing experiences for the active group or individuals in the group the following semester.

Please indicate any particular alumni you may be interested in forming a group with:
